The Warden stated that he was glad to see all members present. During the interim he showed him a message, the contents of the Court House, Mrs. George, having been there for the time, appointed Mr.

W. Cheatham to act.

During the interim he had been served with a notice for damages at Kingsford bridge. The amount claimed was $50, and he had got the claimant to withhold proceedings until this session of Council.

The Board of Ambulance had held at what time the item of equalization of the assessment of the County would be taken up.

It was decided that the Council would sit at 10 o'clock. It was the intention of the Council to hold a session on Thursday next, and that the Council would be pleased to hear him.

PETER MCKIM

Recalls His First Visit to Kingston

From the Whig we take the following interesting interview, Mr. McKim being formerly a resident of this section, and well known to many of our readers:

Peter McKim, late side inspector, when asked the other day to recall some of his experiences, gave the reporter the following account of his life in Kingston:

"I was born and brought up on a farm in the Township of Ernestown about one and a half miles south of what is now the Village of Newburgh, but which then had no existence. In the time which I refer to, a journey to Kingston was an event of no small consequence, and it was talked about and planned for days before starting. My first trip to Kingston was made in a bed with my father in the fall of 1827, after the road had been somewhat dried up.

"To lose as little time as possible from the farm work (for in those days time was considered money) a start was made about seven o'clock in the evening, and taking a zig-zag course through the concessions, we came on the York road, and then called at the house of the late Mr. J. C.

Corrigan, at Mill Creek, now Orleans, was complimentary good, and the farm house was a pleasant one. My first trip to Kingston was made in a bed with my father in the fall of 1827, after the road had been somewhat dried up.

"To lose as little time as possible from the

FAMILY COMPACTISM.

One of the great struggles of the old Reform party, led by such men as Marshall A.

Bidwell, Robert Baldwin and others of that name, was for the breaking up of the Family

Compact system of sixty years or more ago.

Then it was that to certain families and their connection, all the fat offices of the country were parcelled out. Did those grand old men ever once suspect that those who could claim to be their successors as party leaders would themselves resort to a similar abominable system?

Family compactism, under the full name and support of the Liberal party, appears to be now so well established in Canada that the fact appears to no longer call for a single word. The men in power to-day appoint their own families to the most lucrative and desirable positions at their disposal without a single blush or a word of protest from their supporters. It is a well known fact, that a few years ago, Sir Oliver Mowat, then Premier, had his own son appointed to the most lucrative position in the disposal of the Ontario Government, that of Sheriff of Toronto. It was claimed at the time that the appointment was made at the nomination of Mr. John L. P. P. P.

then one of the representatives of Toronto.

It is strange to hear that Mr. L. P. P. P.

that nomination at the suggestion of Sir Oliver himself, and Mr. L. P. P. P. P.

as a return of the compliment, that Sir Oliver would appoint his brother Registrar of West Middlesex. We have heard it stated that before Sir Oliver left for Ontario he was in Kingston, and that he was marked at irregular distances with cedar posts about eight or ten feet apart, and wide about two feet at the top end. Close to the track on the road stood the tiny white and then, after a short distance, a

WINDS THAT HINDER

REV. DR. TALMAGE TO THE WEARY

AND DISCOURAGED.

He Gives Words of Comfort to All Who

Lack Physical and Mental-Test-Overburdened and Overworked.

Washington, May 30.—Dr. Talmage's sermon this week is one of good cheer.

It will give encouragement to many struggling souls. The subject is "Contrary Winds," and the text Matthew xiv,

24. "The wind was contrary."

As I well know by experience on Lake Galilee, one hour all may be calm and the next hour the winds and waves will be so boisterous that you are in doubt as to whether you will land on the shore or on the bottom of the deep. The disciples in the text were caught in such a stress of weather and the sails bent and the ship plunged, for "the wind was contrary." There is in one of the European strains a place, where, whenever you stand, the wind will be against you, and people who all their life are sailing in the sea of life, find that the wind is against them. The wind is the wind of the world, and the wind of the world is the wind of the devil. The wind of the devil is the wind of the devil. The wind of the devil is the wind of the devil. The wind of the devil is the wind of the devil.

The wind of the devil is the wind of the devil. The wind of the devil is the wind of the devil. The wind of the devil is the wind of the devil. The wind of the devil is the wind of the devil. The wind of the

wind of the devil is the wind of the devil.

wind of the devil is the wind of the devil.

wind of the devil is the wind of the devil.

wind of the devil is the wind of the devil.

We tell your doctor all there is in Scott's Emulsion, just how much cod liver oil, hypophosphites, glycerine.

But we do not tell him how these are combined. You have your secrets; this is ours. This knack of makcome to us from years of experience with just one thing.

We make only Scott's Emul-on making that better than any other emulsion in the world. We have no other business thought. Is it any wonder that it is standard?

The students and handling of the wind was about to proceed to amputation when the poor man leaped from the table and hobbled to the door, and said, "Gentlemen, I am sorry to disappoint you, but by the help of God I will die with my leg on." What a terrible

Napaneze Beaver

FACTS VERBIS FANCI.

The Napaneze Express of last week makes an attempt to reply to the Napaneze remarks of the last issue of the present Government in taking all protective duty off corn, and thus giving the corn raisers of the Western States the full freedom of our markets while they bear no share in the burden of our taxation. It is just or fair that our own farmers should be burdened with heavy taxation to meet all our government and municipal expenses here, and then be required to compete on even terms with those of another country who do not assist in bearing our cost of our expenses.

It is merely our purpose now to correct some misstatements made by the Express which seem to have the opportunity of making them rather accurate facts or not.

1. The Express says: "Practically, to all intents and purposes, we had free trade in corn under the N.F. and our farmers were in a position to compete with those of the Western States. Under the N.F. tariff there was a rebate of 90 per cent on all corn sold for human consumption, and seed corn was admitted free, etc."

That is the juncy picture used in place of argument, but the facts are very different. According to the last year's Dominion Trade returns the total quantity of corn imported into Canada was 3,017,500 bushels, valued at $1,185,001. Of this, 263,533 bushels, valued at $95,725, was corn in duty free, leaving 2,753,967 bushels, valued at $1,089,276, which paid a duty of 71 cents per bushel. The government revenue derived from that duty amounted to $2,073,901. In giving our figure two years ago we did not take into account the small quantity that came in duty free, as it will be a once more, it is a more drop in the bucket compared with the whole. Therefore, our statement was only made to that on which the change of duty is made.

Under the changed policy by the present Government the country will thus lose over $200,000 revenue, which the taxpayers will have to make up by raising taxes at home.

Quite an excitement was caused on Sunday by the fact that the Express had been so corrected by the Editor of the Express.

2. The Express says: "The present Government proposes to retain the duty on corn to distilleries at 24 cents, but to reduce it to 20 cents for all other purposes. According to the last year's Dominion Trade returns, the duty on corn was 546,028 bushels. Admitting that every bushel of this was imported it will be at once seen that over 2,000,000 bushels will remain, representing a revenue of over $150,000 a year."

These figures are based on the fact that the duty on corn is 24 cents per bushel, and the duty on corn for distilleries is 20 cents per bushel.
